Headteacher's Update

Dear Parents,

What a great way to end this half-term! You will no doubt have read the HMI report and letter and join me in the sigh of relief that it has been agreed - we are on the way up! As I said in my letter, I am so grateful to the whole school community (children, governors, parents and their extended families and our local area), for your support and commitment to the school. We have fabulous children who deserve the best education and opportunities that we can provide and we will continue to press forward and improve on the areas identified. I think you will agree we all need a good break next week, ready to return refreshed to continue the next stage of our improvement journey.

In the meantime, have a wonderful week and we look forward to seeing you back on Monday 19th February!

Kind Regards

Jane Wilford
Headteacher

Mental Health Week

This week we joined schools across the country to complete work on children's mental health. Sadly, recent statistics show that our Island children are more troubled with their mental well-being compared to children in other parts of the country. The whole school community needs to ensure we protect children from the pressures that life brings, both in and outside of school. We are fortunate to employ Mrs Davis, our ELSA, who is able to support children with their emotional literacy and spend time building children's resilience and social skills. We will continue to offer a range of activities to support the development of positive mind-set and self-confidence in all our children through our PSHE programme. At every opportunity, we look at ways to ensure that all the children are treated as individuals to enable us to implement our school statement – 'All our children can achieve success.'

Celebration

In assembly this morning we congratulated several children on their sporting achievements outside of school. Lucia in Year 5 has completed her 500 metres award, Zoe in Year 3 her Level 4 swimming award and Fergus in Year 4 ran 20 miles! Well done to all of you.

Sensory Garden

At the end of last week, the publicity team from Island Roads came to see the development of our sensory garden. Part of the agreement when they helped with the paths, was that they would complete a publication on the work that they completed. I am aware that this article made no reference to all the other volunteers who have given so much time and energy to help us and we would like to apologise if this has caused any upset. Island Roads wrote the article with reference to the work that they had solely done. We are so grateful for the support we have received from others and when the project is completed we will be having an official 'Opening', when we will again thank everyone who has been involved. Isle of Wight Radio have also contacted us for information so we are working with the children to write some articles about the work and people who have been involved so far. We will keep you updated on this.
